MORE WHISKY CAPTURED

Three Heavily-Laden Negroes Taken From a Chesapeake and Ohio Train Yesterday Afternoon.

William E. Payne, State Prohibition Inspector, yesterday afternoon arrested Joseph Vaughn, Walter Tinsley and Edward Fuller, all colored, on the charge of smuggling liquor into the state. The darkeys were on a south-bound Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad train, and the arrests were made at the union passenger station in this city. After having been placed in the station house six or seven bottles of liquor were taken from their pockets.

Vaughn was in charge of two suit cases containing 18 pint bottles of whisky. His legs were encircling the suit cases when the officer asked him if they belonged to him. He replied "Yes," but when placed at the bar of the Police Court this morning he disclaimed ownership. He was held for the action of the grand jury.

Tinsley also had two suit cases in which 14 quarts of whisky were secreted. He acknowledged ownership, and was held for the grand jury.

Fuller's baggage contained 16 pints bottles of whisky. He acknowledged ownership, and was held for the action of the grand jury.

Two suit cases and a satchell, belonging to another negro named Payne, were brought to the station house. Payne managed to escape by leaving his baggage, which contained about 60 pint bottles of liquor.

A soldier, who gave his name as William Kelly, which was later found to be fictitious, was arrested at an early hour this morning with a colored woman named Lula Snowden for acting in a suspicious manner. The couple were arraigned this morning, when the soldier was held subject to the orders of his commander. The woman, who was partly under the influence of liquor when taken in custody, said she walked from Washington to Alexandria last night "for an airing." She was fined $5 for vagrancy.

Two white men were fined $1 each for violating the traffic law by placing their vehicles on the wrong side of the street.

At a special session of the court last night a man was fined $10 for operating a motor truck at an unlawful speed. The officer who made the arrest stated that the accused ran his machine over two squares in 19 seconds.

This afternoon inspector Payne intercepted William Wheaton, Arthur Smithers and William Smith, all colored, who were carrying three suit cases, a satchel and workman's coat with several large pockets, all filled with bottled whisky, upon a R. F. and P. train at union station. The darkeys and their baggage were taken in custody and the Police Court met in special session. Wheaton denied he was the owner of either receptacle, although Mr. Payne testified that he was carrying two suit cases. The others made no denial of the charge against them, and the trio were held for the action of the grand jury.

AERO MAIL DELIVERY.

Twenty-four Cent Special Delivery Stamps to be Used on Route From Washington to New Work.

A new postage stamp to be known as the "Aero Special Delivery" is the designation of a new 24-cent stamp soon to be issued by the Post Office Department, and its use, in addition to the regular 3-cent stamp, will be required on all letters sent by the aerial mail route to be established between Washington and New York.

Postmaster General Burleson is confident that the proposed route will be a success. In his opinion the distance can be covered in two hours, including time taken up by the stop at Philadelphia. Another hour will be required for sorting and delivering the mail, which will enable a Washington business man to put a communication in the hands of his correspondent in New York within three hours from the time it leaves his office here.

One of the "sky postmen" will leave each of the terminal cities once a day as a beginning for the service. It is planned to have the mail close at 11 a. m. If on schedule time, letters will reach their destination about 2 o'clock the same day.

SENATE ADOPTS BILL

Raises Salary of Prohibition Commissioner Peters From $3,500 to $4,000 Per Year.

Richmond, March 6.—The senate by a vote of 30 to 6 passed the Mapp-West prohibition bill yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, after it had been amended to safeguard the private citizen in his rights in a watertight manner to leave the present quart law in effect as to beverage purposes, so far as the Virginia law goes; to place the commissioner's salary at $4,000 and allow the department $140-000 for administration of affairs. An emergency being declared to exist, the bill will go into effect at once.

As a result of granting precedence to the prohibition bill and temporizing tactics, the State purchasing agent bill died on the calendar.

The Senate agreed without roll call to adopt the committee amendment reducing the proposed $5,000 salary of the bill and increasing the present salary of $3,500 to $4,000.

It is provided that in those counties and cities, except the city of Norfolk, to which the drug store right does not apply, the court may, upon recommendation of a suitable person by the commissioner, designate such willing person to sell whisky for medicinal purposes. It is provided that the permits to soft drink establishments and the like shall be good until revoked.

The amendment relating to bringing whisky into the State allows the interstate traveler to carry a quart for his bona fide personal use.

The West amendment restored the personal privilege of bringing in one's personal possession one quart every thirty days. This does not apply to any law of shipment. But the Wendenburg amendment restored the law as to the shipment into the state of the present quart provisions.

Croker Picks Hearst.

Palm Beach, Fla., March 6.—Mayor Hylan of New York, after a two weeks' Palm Beach vacation, left for home late Monday night.

The Mayor, asked whether his letter to Morris Adler, published at length in New York on March 1, eulogizing William R. Hearst, had been put out with any intention of forerunning an announcement that Mr. Hearst would become a candidate for Governor of New York, answered he had never thought of such a thing.

Just before that Richard Croker had passed. The old chief of Tammany Hall was asked for an expert survey of the coming Gubernatorial campaign, and replied:

"The Democratic candidate should win it. Hearst at present seems to me the strongest man in the field for nomination, if he is in the field. If nominated, he should win if there is no interference in the campaign on the part of those in national politics. It has been my observation in New York that such interference has been resented by New York voters, but President Wilson is today very strong in my judgment, he is stronger than his party."

KILLS GIRL-WIFE'S FATHER.

Virginian Shoots His Child Bride of Year Ago.

Lynchburg, Va., March 6.—At Dundee, near Stone Mountain, in Bedford county, Thomas Trumbo, aged 36, a farmer, Monday night shot and killed his father-in-law, William West, and wounded his young brother-in-law, his mother-in-law and his wife, the latter dangerously. Trumbo went to Bedford yesterday morning and gave himself up to the sheriff who locked him up. Trumbo married West's daughter, a girl of 14, about a year ago, and she had gone on a visit to her parents. Before going, it is said, she had some words with her husband. Monday about dark Trumbo went to West's house, broke in the door and commenced shooting and cutting, killing West immediately with a bullet, and dangerously wounding his girl wife. Mrs. West, his mother-in-law, and Allen West, her small son, both were grazed by bullets. Allen was also cut on the head, Mrs. Trumbo probably will die, as she was shot in the abdomen.

Death Notice.

Died, Tuesday morning, March 5, 1918, Matilda Griffin. Funeral Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Joseph's Catholic church, this city. Friends and acquaintances of the family are invited to attend.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

Mr. N. D. Boothe is reported to be quite ill at his home at 427 Queen street.

An aeroplane which was being tried out for the use of the Navy came down from Washington as far as Alexandria yesterday afternoon and circled over the city.

The regular monthly meeting of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Gladden Goodrich, aged about 25 years, died at the Alexandria hospital this afternoon from pneumonia. The body was taken to Demaine's undertaking rooms. The deceased was connected with the quartermaster's department at Camp Humphreys, Belvoir. His home was at Hopedale, Mass.

The various committees who are engaged in the work of soliciting funds for the Alexandria branch of the American Red Cross had succeeded in raising $3,250 up to Monday of this week, in cash and pledges. So far as possible an effort is being made to induce people to pledge themselves to pay a certain amount each month, where they cannot or do not wish to pay the entire amount they wish to contribute at one time. It is estimated that at least $12,000 will be needed to procure the necessary materials and carry on the work of the local branch during the period of the war should it be prolonged for another year. The sum of $600 per month is required for the present amount of work being done and that is very liable to be increased by the demands of the American army after the spring drive really starts over in France. Leo P. Harlow has been appointed chairman of the publicity committee.

An important meeting of Alva Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles will be held tonight in Eagles Hall, 110 South Royal street, at 8 o'clock.

The funeral of the late Charles W. Adams was held this morning at half past ten o'clock from his late residence, 302 Wolfe street. The Rev. E. V. Regester of the Methodist Church South officiated, and the interment was in Ivy Hill cemetery.

A large audience was attracted to Lyceum hall last night to witness the production of "If I only had a Million," which was put on by St. Mary's dramatic club for the benefit of the war fund being raised by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The efforts of the various actors are well spoken of by all.

Mrs. Mildred M. Struder, wife of William M. Struder, who died yesterday morning at Millwood, Clarke county, Va., will be buried from Demaine's mortuary chapel at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. E. V. Regester will officiate and interment will be in the Methodist Protestant cemetery. She was a former resident of Alexandria.

As was stated recently in the Gazette, a committee of Alexandrians is now in Richmond for the purpose of impressing our Delegate and Senator with the importance of having Alexandria exempted from the provisions of the law imposing a fine of five dollars upon shopkeepers and others who may dispense soft drinks, ice-cream, cigars, tobacco, etc., on Sundays. Those interested in the matter say the law will have been rendered inoperative, so far as Alexandria is concerned, by the end of the present week. The session of the legislature of 1918 will be brought to a close during the next few days.

The funeral of Davis Fewell, who died yesterday morning at the Alexandria hospital, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Demaine's mortuary chapel. Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate and the interment will be in Bethel cemetery. The deceased formerly kept a store at the corner of Alfred and Queen street. He was 52 years of age.

Two ladies of the city were comparing notes regarding the food conservation campaign in a store in town yesterday, when one asked the other, "How does your husband like the idea of eating substitutes?" In answer her companion said, "Oh, John doesn't say much except that when he sits down to the table he occasionally remarks that he will be mighty glad when this war is over." The lady might have added that there are many others who agree with John.

A letter written by an Alexandria county boy, from "Somewhere in France," has been received by the Alexandria Red Cross in acknowledgement of a Christmas gift sent to him. The letter says: "It is very pleasant to be thus remembered by our friends at home while we are so far away from our native land, and I thank you very much. Your organization is doing a great work and I think its efforts will be appreciated. We are only the advance guard over here, and, in a way, are pioneers in the work to be done, and there is plenty of it ahead of us and for the others to follow. While many of us may be very homesick, we won't come back until our work is finished in a thorough manner, and I hope our friends at home feel the same way about it."

THREE MEN KILLED.

Two Innocent Victims Drop in Fight With Robbers.

Covington, Ky., March 6.—Three men were killed and one wounded last night in an attempted holdup of the Ninth Ward Building and Loan Association.

The dead are Andrew Nordmeyer, proprietor of the Hippodrome Theater; John Rehm, who, with Nordmeyer, was one of the oldest members of the association, and one robber unidentified.

Immediately after the attempted robbery the police spread a dragnet for the two other bandits who escaped and the assistance of the Cincinnati police was enlisted. Up to a late hour last night neither of the two men had been apprehended. No money was stolen.

The chief of police was in the office at the time of the attempted holdup counting ballots that had been cast at last night's meeting when the three men entered from the rear and demanded the money that had been collected

When the men passed him he reached for his revolver and shot one of the men dead.

The other two returned the fire, but Klumpker kept his weapon blazing away as long as the cartridges lasted.

During the shooting Nordmeyer and Rehm were killed.

TODAY'S STATUS.

Condition of Wheat Supplies Becoming More Acute Daily.

Richmond, March 6.—The situation concerning the conservation of wheat is becoming more acute daily according to a statement given out today by the State Food Administrator E. B. White. The notice sent out from Washington discontinuing meatless meals and porkless Saturdays will be duly appreciated by the people, but at the same time it is now urgently requested that the consumption of all breadstuffs be reduced to an absolute minimum. The food administration also says that it is imperatively necessary that even the use of substitutes, as well as wheat, be cut to the lowest possible point.

TELLS BOY TO TAKE POISON.

Stranger Gives 6-Year-Old Lad Bichloride of Mercury.

Waynesboro, Pa., March 6.—Daniel Bowen, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bowen, Wayne building, this city, on his way to school a man accosted him and remarked: "You look cold; don't you feel cold?" The boy replied that he was a little cold. "Then," said the man, "I have something that will soon warm you up and keep you that way."

He took from his pocket a box containing small tablets and removing six placed them in the boy's hand and told him when he reached school to get a glass of water and swallow them.

Daniel forgot to take the tablets. When he returned home he told his mother and displayed the medicine. Mrs. Bowen took them to the Arco drug store and Bowman Metz said that the pellets looked like bichloride of mercury.

URGES VACCINATION.

State Department of Health Warns of Existence of Smallpox in Many Counties of Virginia.

Richmond, March 6.—In view of the existence of smallpox in a number of the counties of Virginia, the State Department of Health today issued a general warning to all unvaccinated persons to have themselves immediately vaccinated, while the disease is nowhere present in epidemic form the focii from which it may spread are so numerous as to make precautionary measures not only advisable but requisite. Furthermore all persons who become cognizant of suspicious cases should promptly report them for investigation to the local authorities.

During the past month smallpox cases have been reported to the Department from Northampton, Louisa, Alleghany, Middlesex, Gloucester, Wise, Tazewell, Lee, Hanover and Caroline counties, while in January physicians in nineteen counties reported eighty-three cases, Russell with twenty and Wise and Pittsylvania with thirteen cases each having the largest numbers.

Although local authorities, seconded in their efforts by the State Department of Health, have taken all proper steps to keep the disease from further spread, no one can afford to risk infection by neglecting to be vaccinated.

BUSINESS MEN HOLD AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Representative Citizens Discuss Proposed Reorganization of Chamber of Commerce at Luncheon Held at Westminster Building Yesterday—Plans Explained in Detail—Brief Addresses Made by Various Speakers—Much Interest Manifested by all Present.

The Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday at the Westminster building, one of the preliminary steps in the reorganization campaign, proved a most gratifying success. It was a serious, business-like, and enthusiastic meeting, and declared to be without precedent for unanimity of opinion. It was the first of a series of two luncheons. A list of representative citizens was selected for the two affairs, and half the list was arbitrarily selected for the first luncheon, and the other half for the second.

Enthusiastic talks were made by Chairman Payne, S. G. Brent, Carroll Pierce, Samuel W. Pitts, Harry R. Burke, Geo. Warfield, James Bayne, and Kenneth Ogden.

The spirit of the talks was that the situation in Alexandria demanded the greatest possible co-operation, civic loyalty, and hard work. These things could be most effectively brought about by every citizen with a material interest in the community joining the reorganized Chamber of Commerce and there working and giving his financial and personal support along definite and efficient lines. Every speaker pledged his utmost support and called upon the citizens of the city to get together at this time when there appears to be a general desire to do so.

The working plans of the new Chamber of Commerce were explained in detail. By means of a chart it was shown that the members of the organization following the campaign would be given an opportunity to enroll in those departments of work in which they were most interested. These bureaus or departments will be civic, industrial, agricultural, merchantile, traffic and transportation, and publicity and conventions. A member may belong to more than one bureau.

This plan, it was explained, was modeled on the modern business concern and brought about active personal service on the part of a large part of the membership. These bureaus under competent and aggressive management will initiate activities that will call for service from many members and provide opportunity for each to work on matters in which he is especially interested and on which he is well informed.

Another feature of the Chamber of Commerce to be known as the Members' Council, was also explained. It is an initiative and referendary body of representatives elected from all trades, businesses and professions within the Chamber of Commerce. Each trade or professional group will meet once a year at the call of the President and elect two delegates to the council. Meetings will be held bi-weekly or monthly, or on call when occasion demands. All members of the Chamber may attend the meetings of the council, but the groups place on their representatives the direct responsibility for faithful attendance. All members may take part in the discussion but only representatives may vote, so that the public opinion of the body, representing every interest and influence in the city, may not be overbalanced by the vote of one interest having a special concern in the matter at hand.

The Member Council acts as a clearing house for all ideas and matters relating to the work of the organization. It has great value as a suggestive body.

Announcement was also made about the "Greater Alexandria" meeting Monday at the Elk's club. The guests were warned that they would miss the greatest oratorical treat of their lives if they did hear Dr. D. W. Daniel, the South Carolina orator, who will be one of the main speakers. Here is what the Lynchburg News said editorally concerning Dr. Daniel following his great address there one year ago:

"To Dr. D. W. Daniel, of South Carolina—here's a word from Lynchburg of cordial and grateful appreciation for his inspirational Chamber of Commerce address Monday night. A Lynchburg audience perhaps never listened to a more impelling call to civic conscience and for general civic co-operation than that to which Dr. Daniel gave eloquent expression at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. The speech was garnished with the flavor of irresistible humor; it gleamed with the grace of brilliant, magnetic presentation; but above all and best of all, its substance provided a so ringing, impressive, convincing exposition of individual responsibility in its relation to community obligation as to stir the heart of the audience, broaden its vision, and quicken it with the touch of higher, braver, nobler resolve. Unless we greatly err, Dr. Daniel's effort will be rewarded with a fruitage of which he will have abundant reason to be proud. For itself and on behalf of Lynchburg, the News begs to extend to the distinguished South Carolinian the heartiest of congratulations."

"NO GRUMBLING" LEAGUE.

New Organization Formed in Wilmington—Men Pledge Themselves Not to Find Fault with Food.

Men in the city of Wilmington, Delaware, are showing the right spirit. Members of Trinity Men's Club there have organized a "Men's League Against Food Grumblers." The pledge taken by them is as follows:

"Without prejudice to my rights as an American citizen and as the head of my home, I pledge myself during the war not to complain by reason of a compliance by the housekeeper with the rules and requests of the United States Government for the conservation and proper use of food supplies as a war measure, and also to eat the food set before me, being thankful that it is no worse."

The league has been formed to encourage housewives in necessary food conservation, observe economy when ordering in hotels and restaurants, and report monthly concerning the observance of the pledge, with a verification by the housekeeper in each man's family. Violations of rules are punishable by a system of fines in War Savings Stamps.

RETURN TO PAGANISM.

German manifestoes, particularly the War Lord's bombastic announcements lauding the prowess of his arms, imply an intimate relationship with the Diety, to understand which it is necessary to remember the Kaiser is not speaking of the God of the Christians, but referring to the tribal divinity of his heathen ancestors.

The Philadelphia Record says as long ago as 1863 Heinrich Heine, exiled from Germany for having political opinions of his own, asserted that the Prussians were neither Germans nor Christians, and predicted that they would revert eventually to the worship of their old tribal god.

It is a matter of history that the Borussi, as the Prussians were known originally, refused to accept even a veneer of Christianity until the middle of the thirteenth century, finding the massacre of Christian missionaries and the worship of their tribal god Thor more to their liking.

Thor was rather stupid, but strong enough to do considerable michief. He attempted to wrestle with Death, to devour more food than Fire could consume, and to detach from its moorings the Midgard serpent, whose function, by encircling the world with its coil, was to hold the globe together. Naturallly, he failed in these undertakings, but he came so near success that he caused considerable perturbation to those interested in maintaining the natural order of things.

The Christian veneer with which the Prussians were ornamented in the thirteenth century seems badly chipped at present, and Heine's prophecy in regard to their return to the worship of Thor has been fulfilled. It is for us to dash their ancient idol from its new pedestal.

GENTLE SPRING WEATHER.

The weather so far this week has been all that could have been desired. During most of the time the wind has come in soft zephyrs from the south, while the temperature has been that of May instead of boisterous March. Should present meteorological conditions continue a few days longer the trees will begin to show life.

The weather has been auspicious for the fishing season, and shad and herring are finding their way into the Potomac. These specimens of the finny tribe, however, are selling at high prices, so much so that they keep beyond the reach of people of ordinary means. A good shad costs over a dollar at present. Black bass are becoming more plentiful, as are other specimens of fresh water fish.

March, is an uncertain month. A few years ago the weather during the entire month was mild, suggestive of April. In the middle of the month of 1888, however, there was a veritable blizzard. It was during this storm that Roscoe Conkling met his death.

Way back in the early forties St. Patrick's Day was accompanied by a blizzard of great severity. Snow and high northwest winds prevailed that day and on several succeeding days.

Present mild conditions may prove to be weather breeders, and people should be careful not to discard much of their winter clothing yet.

THE CITY'S TRAFIC LAW.

The police are still kept busy in attempts to enforce the traffic law of Alexandria. A special session of the Police Court was held last night for the purpose of investigating a case against a new comer who was charged with running an auto truck over two squares of a street running east and west in nineteen seconds. According to the law, he should have consumed eighteen seconds in passing each block, and twenty-four seconds in passing blocks on thoroughfares running north and south. It was necessary to impose the usual fine, the amount paid occasionally by our own people for such offenses.

Two white men were brought before the court this morning on the charge of operating vehicles on the wrong side of the street. They, too were fined.

We endeavored yesterday to prers upon all concerned the importance of observing the traffic laws, especially at this time, when the number of automobiles and trucks are increasing so rapidly. It is hoped that all interested will keep within the law in future.

NEW PROHIBITION LAW.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the Virginia Senate yesterday afternoon, the new prohibition law is substantially the old, save that the salary of Commissioner Peters has been increased $500 a year and the appropriation for enforcing the law has also been considerably augmented. The privilege of purchasing a quart of liquor a month is retained in the new bill, and, after all, the statute is as it was originally, a law regulating the use of spirituous or malt liquors. It was supposed that the present Legislature would make the state bone dry, but this was not done.

RITES FOR ARCHBISHOP.

Philadelphia, March 6.—With all the traditional honors called for by Catholic rubrics, the funeral of the Most Rev. Dr. Edmund F. Prendergast, archbishop of Philadelphia, was held yesterday in the Cathedral of SS Peter and Paul. Cardinals Gibbons and Farley, Archbishop Bonzano, papal representative; more than a score of bishops, archbishops and monsignori from many parts of the country; hundreds of priests and members of the other religious orders together with thousands of lay church members, assembled to pay their last tribute to the memory of the late distinguished leader of one of the largest archdioceses in the country.

The large cathedral where the archbishop was laid to rest in a crypt beneath the altar was far too small to accommodate the crowds of mourners. Thousands thronged Logan square, many standing bare-headed throughout the exercises. In accordance with the wishes of the archbishop, there was a note of simplicity at the funeral which contrasted with the elaborate service of the solemn pontifical requiem mass and the brilliant robes of the visiting church dignitaries.

Bishop John J. McCourt, the archbishop's auxiliary, was the celebrant of the pontifical mass. Bishop Canevan, of Pittsburgh, preached the funeral sermon.

ACTION OF JAPAN.

President Against Intervention in Russia; Other War Governments Favor It.

In sources close to the administration the opinion prevails that a note from President Wilson has gone forward to Japan. It is believed to contain a vigorous protest against Japanese intervention in Siberia.

The position of the United States against Japanese intervention is its own. It is unmistakably indicated here that London, Paris and Rome have approved Japan's action.

There were further positive indications that Japan will intervene. Her decision may change when the President's note reaches Tokio. A change is not looked for.

The developments of last night are by far the most vital since the world war began.

The decision which President Wilson is understood to have reached will in effect call upon Japan to lay her cards on the table.

The position of the allies in approving intervention will save Japan from declaring herself for or against the entente. The attitude taken by the United States may force her to declare, by action if not by words, whether she has aims of permanent conquest on the Asiatic mainland.

Intervention might be justified if human life were at stake. It is not justified for the defense of property, no matter how valuable.

FATHER-KILLER REAL HERO.

Judge Finds Boy Justified in Saving Mother's Life.

Waynesburg, Pa., March 6.—Judge J. W. Ray, of the Greene County Juvenile Court, yesterday, after hearing the story of the killing, told in childish treble by 13-year-old James O'Donnel, charged with murdering his father, George O'Donnel, last Christmas, dismissed the case, on the ground that the lad had saved his mother from brutal death at the hands of her husband, when he shot and instantly killed the latter as he stood over the prostrate woman, about to plunge a knife into her body.

The boy was the only witness of a quarrel, which ended in his father's attempt to slay his wife. As George O'Donnel held the woman on a bed with upraised knife, the boy ran to the wall, took down the loaded rifle and shot his father through the heart, just as he started the knife toward the woman's side.

WOMEN POLL HEAVY VOTE.

Democrats Win Out With Help of Newly Enfranchised Voters.

New York, March 6.—The Democrats won all of the four Congressional seats voted for in a special election here yesterday.

They won them all by decisive majorities, for which they have to thank the women, who yesterday cast their ballots for the first time in this state for Congressional candidates.

The women polled practically 50 per cent of the entire vote cast. They put themselves almost solidly on record in support of the administration in its war policies.

The political complexion of the House of Representatives is now as follows:

Democrats, including the four chosen in New York on Tuesday, 214.

Republicans, including three now absent in army service, 212.

Independents usually voting with Democrats.

CASE OF ROUMANIA.

Little Kingdom Threatened With Extinction by Austria if She Rejects Peace Terms.

Austria has threatened Roumania with extinction unless she agrees immediately to oppressive peace terms. This information was received by the State Department last night from authentic source.

Count Czernin has told the Roumanians that it is now possible to make peace, guaranteeing their country and their "dynasty." If such a peace is not immediately signed the Austrian premier has warned Roumania that she will be crushed off the map.

The use of the word "dynasty" in these terms is believed to foreshadow a demand for the abdication of King Ferdinand, who, as the family head of the House of Hohenzollern has made his resistance to the Germans doubly offensive in Berlin.

MURDER OF GIRL PUPIL.

Unable or Unwilling to Finish Recitation of a Poem, Student's Life is a Forfeit.

Jeannette, Pa., March 6.—Because one of her pupils, Esther Holmes, 14, was guilty of a slight breach of school discipline, Miss Margaret Smail, 20, a teacher in the Penn township school at Claridge, near here, struck the girl with a paddle, fracturing her skull and causing her death, it is alleged.

Miss Smail was held without bail for murder by Justice of the Peace Tussey, but later the District Attorney permitted her release in $3,000 bail, pending trial in Court.

The pretty, young teacher wept bitterly throughout the trial as she heard Eula Hopkins, classmate of the dead girl, relate how Miss Smail had delivered a blow with a paddle when the pupil could not or would not finish a poetic recitation. This occurred February 5, it was testified, and the girl pupil died 10 days later.

Dr. J. F. Long testified that the Holmes child died from a fractured skull, due to a blow above the right eye. The Hopkins girl said the Holmes girl had been told to recite a poem, but after uttering about one-third of it she hesitated, waited a few seconds and then sat down, announcing that she had forgotten the rest of it. She was ordered by Miss Smail to finish the recitation, the witness testified, and when she did not comply, was struck over the eye with a paddle.

TO RUN ROADS 21 MONTHS.

Tentative Agreement Fixing Time Limit Reached.

Washington, March 6.—Government control and operation of railroads probably will continue for 21 months after the war.

A tentative agreement fixing that time limit was reached late yesterday by conferees on the Railroad Control Bill as a compromise for two years, proposed in the House bill and 18 months in the Senate. The conferees expect their tentative agreement finally will be presented to Congress.

The conferees adjourned until today with the important question of rate making still in dispute. Complete adjustment of differences on the measure is expected today in view of intimations said to have come from President Wilson that he would not object to the Senate bill's provision giving him power to initiate rates, but retaining authority for their final review by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

RUSSIA LOSES PROVINCES.

Will Have No Further Rights in Esthonia, Livonia or Finland.

Amsterdam, March 6.—Russia and the Central Powers, in the peace treaty reached at Brest-Litovsk, agreed that the war between them should be at an end, Berlin dispatches says. The third clause of the treaty provided that the regions west of a line agreed upon, and which is to be delineated later, formerly belonging to Russia, shall have no further obligation toward Russia, and Germany and Austria will determine their fate in agreement with their population. Article four provides for the evacuation of the Anatolian provinces and the surrender of Eriven, Kars and Batoum to Turkey.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side...

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.
